Editorial

In the Editorial of the last issue of BROADSWORD I posted the statement " The collapse of the post-1945 world order is drawing closer and the time of our Struggle is ever near !"

The domestic economic and political situation in the UK and across Europe and the so-called 'G8' economies is proving this to be true. The banks and financial institutions are in trouble, the Government has been forced to concede that Britain is joining in the world recession.

The rising number of jobless in Britain is being joined by an estimated 100 businesses a week going under, trade unions are actually defending strikes where the slogan is "British Jobs For British Workers!" and official figures prove that migrants are taking a disproportionate number of job vacancies in the UK.

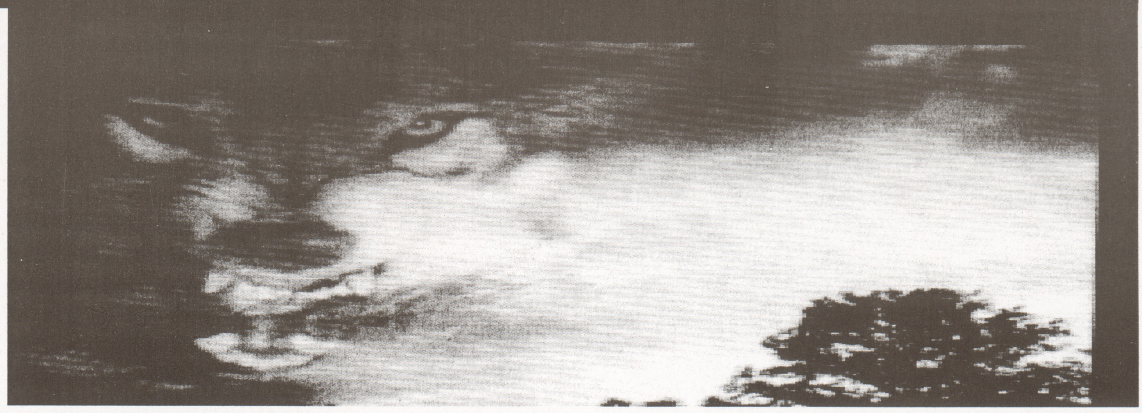
The Establishment is looking on in horror, unable to halt the collapse that their policies and ideologies have brought about. We must never forget that the Government has a greater awareness of the real situation in regard to the true state of the economy and unemployment and the potential for social unrest, than the general public, who are drip-fed a watered down version of reality by the controlled media.

In recent weeks Government ministers have publicly stated that they are afraid that in the coming months of recession, the British National Party and other far-Right groups will exploit the social and economic climate, gaining support and challenging the political status quo. During the strikes for "British Jobs For British Workers", both the Labour Party and the trade unions have desperately sought to keep the "far-Right groups" away from the picket lines.

Now, as BROADSWORD goes to print, a senior police commander with specific responsibilities for public order has expressed his fears of riots on British streets, civil unrest that will be exploited by both the extreme-Left and the extreme-Right. The Establishment are afraid !

WE WILL HAVE OUR COUNTRY BACK !

THE WEREWOLF COLUMN



WHEN THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN THE UK STARTS TO BREAK DOWN WE CAN EXPECT THE STATE TO CRACK DOWN HARD ON ALL WHITE NATIONALIST AND WHITE RESISTANCE ORGANISATIONS.

In the last issue of Broadsword magazine the Werwolf Column outlined how White Resistance was growing against the multi-racial society, and how the growing threat of recession and economic downturn can work in our favour.

Naturally we do not expect the State to calmly stand back and allow their multi-racial democracy to be overturned by popular opinion. We know only too well from past experience that the State and the Establishment will use every force and every dirty trick available to them to cling on to their power and privilege.

Not surprisingly the Labour Government has been working hard at building up its Stalinist police systems for several years and has a number of new departments ready to 'counter radical organisations both on the 'Far-Left' and the 'Far-Right'.

Of these the Confidential Intelligence Unit (CIU) is now operating as an effective 'secret police' arm of the British security and law enforcement services.

The Home Office and Scotland Yard have circulated internal police recruitment details for the CIU claiming it has wide ranging powers, to "remove the threat of criminality and public disorder that arises from extremism".

In New Labour/Home Office Speak that means that they will label as criminal any political resistance that they disapprove of. The CIU will be involved in the collection of what is described as "secret data" and will work together with MI5, as a 'counter-subversion' organisation within the mainland police forces.

Secret police to spy on British 'subversives'

This is how one British national newspaper broke the newspaper broke the story about the new 'Secret Police' unit the CIU.

Whatever else we do, we must stay alert to their infiltration tactics, their spies and 'agents provocateurs'. We must not allow them to disrupt or divert our efforts, and we must not allow them the opportunity to destroy our organisation by drawing any of our people into violent conspiracies or illegal acts. Remember the State has the money and the resources and controls the Courts, the Police and the rule of Law.

PVE - Preventing Violent Extremism

The Labour Government has allocated a budget of £80 million to the PVE programme. In their media propaganda the Government have claimed that PVE is designed to lead young 'British' Muslims away from fundamentalist Islamic ideas and militant religious politics. But in reality the PVE programme incorporates police intelligence officers and is intended to target not just the Muslim extremists but also those it describes as 'White extremists' and 'Far-Right' White racists. Police and teachers will target those White British youngsters they believe are involved with British Nationalist and National Socialist organisations in order to turn them against the organisations and ideals they support.

The Werwolf Column Warns White British Youth To Be On Your Guard.
Do Not Be Targetted By the PVE Thought Police.

MULTI-RACIAL MADNESS

Broadsword looks at the stories and incidents drawn from across the media in Britain that best illustrate the depths into which our country has sunk as the Government, the media, the police and the Race Relations industry conspire against the indigenous British people to impose a multi-cultural society on Britain. How British culture, values and traditions are undermined by political correctness, minority interests and racial equality. Stories which reveal the harsh reality of life in a multi-cultural Britain and the betrayal of the White British majority population.

Another 'Own Goal' For Race-Mixers When Government Adviser Claims That "Jews are behind anti-Islamic web-sites."

Government adviser Maqsood Ahmed works for the Department for Communities and Local Government, which is the Labour Government's arm dedicated to enforcing 'diversity' and protecting the great multi-racial experiment.

Despite all the usual public claims of all faiths working together in harmony, their love of multi-culturalism, diversity etc. etc. Once again the mask has slipped and the hypocrisy of these immigrant led self-interest groups has been revealed.

Maqsood Ahmed sent an e-mail out using his government e-mail address claiming that a number of web-sites which were critical of Islam and Moslem militants were " developed by Jews who intentionally are spreading wrong information about the Qur'an, the teachings of the Prophet (Mohammed) and Islam itself".

This little pronouncement has obviously not gone down too well in certain quarters and Broadsword watches with interest to see how this allegation is received by those with influence at Woburn House. It is even more surprising to learn that this hostile claim is being made by someone who considers himself to be a 'government adviser on extremism'.

When the liberal newspapers confronted Ahmed with his apparent lack of multi-faith harmony, Maqsood Ahmed admitted that he had "made an error of judgement".

Home Office Allows Eighty Convicted Murderers To Settle In The UK.

Eighty Albanians, all convicted of murder by Albanian courts have been allowed to settle in Britain. In total one hundred Albanian criminals have been granted British citizenship despite attempts by the Albanian authorities to extradite them back to Albania to serve prison sentences. All were smuggled into the UK by people traffickers, all have falsely claimed asylum in Britain by claiming that they are refugees from Kosovo and would face persecution if deported back to Albania. Once again Human Rights legislation has been used to protect known criminals and in eighty cases, proven murderers from being returned to their country of origins to face justice.

Modern Education in British Schools Traditional Subjects Dropped In Favour Of 'Politically Correct' Lessons.

Traditional lessons like geography have joined history in being dropped in favour of new 'politically correct' subjects such as; global citizenship, human rights, multi-culturalism and social responsibility.

Left-wing ideology has driven the restructuring of British education, the idea being that if children are taught a Leftist perspective in all subjects, they will automatically follow a Left-wing/liberal lifestyle and will readily accept Marxist internationalist ideas like multi-culturalism and global citizenship as the norm. Therefore any ideologies that do not adhere to these Leftist principles will automatically be judged as wrong and rejected without question.

In 1997 the Labour Government introduced new subjects such as citizenship and PSHE - Personal, Social and Health Education, which were presented as lessons which would promote 'socially responsible attitudes' in children. PSHE is the subject area through which liberal and Leftist ideas can be brought into mainstream teaching allowing topics such as mixed race relationships, homosexuality and cultural diversiy to be presented to impressionable children as acceptable and normal. Barely able to conceal their Socialist agenda, the Labour Party admitted that it intended to "use education for a host of social, economic and political initiatives".

In otherwise school curriculums were to be used to brainwash children into accepting a left-wing world view and being educated as part of a liberal, internationalist programme to eradicate traditional teaching. This is the first major step in permanently changing the education system in the UK, where only one 'politically correct' position is allowed and any non-PC contradictory opinions are outlawed.

If this is achieved, the multi-culturalists and multi-racialists will have won, because future generations of British children will have no other point of reference.

A Total of £369,455 Paid Out To Foreign Criminals Who Have Been Released Early.

In the last 18 months British prisons have released more than 2,000 foreign criminals under the End of Custody Licence scheme. Most were freed after serving only half their sentences. All have received compensation payments including prison discharge payments with cost of living payments of up to £168 per week. In total the Government has paid out a total of £369,455 to foreign prisoners for the "inconvenience" of being released early back onto British streets!

Government Department Fails To Count 170,000 Migrant Workers.

Official Government figures "missed' 170,000 immigrant workers from a count of the British workforce. The Labour Force Survey is the official body measuring changes in Britain's workforce, but it did not include migrant workers in the UK for less than a year and did not count migrant workers living in communal housing.
The missing numbers means that official statistics on the impact of immigration on the British employment front and in terms of the jobs market in the UK are completely misleading . The missing figures gives a totally false picture of the true numbers of immigrants taking jobs in Britain.

WHEN THE LABOUR GOVERNMENT SAYS IT WILL GET TOUGH ON ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION - THE REALITY IS VERY DIFFERENT.

180,000 Asylum-Seekers Will Be Allowed To Stay In Britain.

More than 50,000 illegals identified in 2006 have been permitted to stay in the UK.

Home Office blunders left a backlog of files on illegal immigrants, asylum-seekers, and economic migrants going back into the 1990's.
There were 450,000 files in the Case Resolution Programme, this included thousands of individuals who should have been deported years ago.Of these cases, the UK Border Agency has examined 130,000 files and as a result has allowed 51,000 individuals to stay. These figures include 2,300 from Turkey and over 3,750 from Pakistan, the figures include overseas criminals and sex offenders.

This includes seven known criminals listed in the "Most Serious" category which covers murder, manslaughter, rape and child-sex offences.
All seven have been granted permission to stay in the UK.

IF THESE PEOPLE HAD NOT BEEN ALLOWED TO SETTLE IN BRITAIN THESE PROBLEMS WOULD NOT EXIST

SWITZERLAND

'Shocking Racist Attack' was faked.

It seems that faked 'racist attacks' are not exclusive to Britain, as a recent incident in Zurich has shown. The Swiss news media went into overdrive with a series of Shock ! Horror ! headlines and news bulletins when a 26 year old Brazilian immigrant, Paula Oliviera, claimed that she had suffered a miscarriage, losing her unborn twins when she was attacked outside a Zurich railway station by a gang of racist skinheads. To add horror to the story she claimed that during her ordeal the 'racists' had carved the initials of the main Swiss anti-immigration party the SVP (the Swiss People's Party) on her stomach and legs. The newspapers and TV news reports dutifully carried full colour, close-up pictures of Oliviera's injuries and howled about the "Marks of Intolerance".

Of course to spice up the story, she described her three attackers as skinheads, one at least had a 'Nazi symbol' tattooed on the back of his head.

The liberal and anti-racist leftists lapped up the story and joined the clamour against the SVP.. In both Switzerland and Brazil the media went into hand-wringing condemnation of "racism and intolerance".

Unfortunately for the anti-racist lobby, forensic medical experts at Zurich University were quick to identify the carved injuries as self-inflicted and that Paula Oliviera was not pregnant when the alleged attack took place. Suddenly the media storm in both Switzerland and Brazil has fallen very quiet.

RUSSIA

A recent report in a British Sunday newspaper has described Russian Nationalist and para-military National Socialist organisations as "Putin's worst nightmare". The size and popularity of the so-called 'Far-Right' in Russian cities is seen as a real challenge to the Russian establishment, especially militant street -activists in organisations like the Slavic Union.

REPORT ON "IMIA 2008"

By Broadsword's Hellenic correspondent.

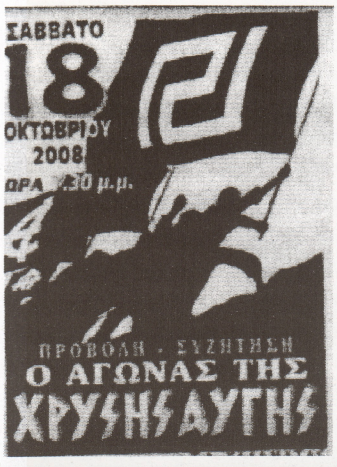
This year the Imia Demonstration was very special, and the Golden Dawn became breaking news for more than 3 days. For the first time, the anti-fascist rabble dared to organize a counter demonstration, that was to take place at exactly the same place as ours (this was not a coincidence of course). Their pathetic plan was for them to occupy the site first at about 14.00 hours, but the Golden Dawn protection eam of about 80 to100 strong was there before 09.00 hours. So the 200 to 300 anti-fascists attempted to reach the central Kolokotroni Square, outflanking the few riot squad police. Suddenly, without warning, a squad of about 10 or more Golden Dawn members attacked the 'Reds' through the loose police formation, a clever tactical move which completely surprised both the police and the 'Reds'.

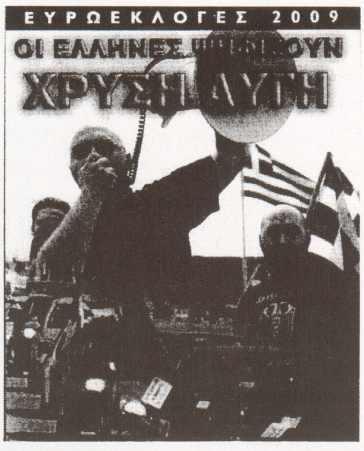
The anti-fascists broke and fled in panic, leaving about a dozen of them injured, two of them with stab wounds (according to police reports). We had a couple of Golden Dawn comrades injured.

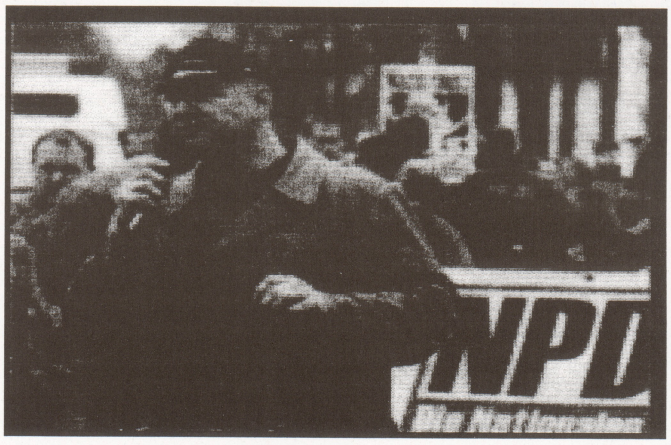
At 15.00 hours in the afternoon, there were more than 250 Golden Dawn members in Kolokotroni Square, our numbers were swelling with every passing minute, when the Public Prosecutor banned our demonstration and march, the march was due to take place at 19.00 in the evening. Finally we left the Square, marching with discipline to the nearest metro-station, defiant and unbeaten. The anti-fascists were rioting, as usual, several hundred metres away and out of our sight. About 100 'Reds' were arrested later, with 99 of them released after a few hours.

It was the first time since 1996 that the IMIA demonstration and march did not take place. Our estimation was for 2,000 people to be present marching this year. But we did gain much media publicity for Golden Dawn for several days. We were joined by comrades from Germany, Latvia, France and Romania, and although the demonstration and march was banned in the end, they all enjoyed their visit to Athens.

George M. - Golden Dawn.







GERMANY

German State continues to harrass the NPD, even though the NPD is a legal political party, and is regularly contesting elections, with a number of elected members in the German political system.

The Berlin offices of the NPD were raided by police more than once in late 2008, allegedly to search for evidence of "financial irregularities".

In November 2008 there were also police raids on the NPD publishing and trading services at Deutsche Stimme and Deutsche Stimme Verlag.

The German State is desperate to discredit the NPD and will try any measures to link accusations of criminality and mismanagement on the German nationalists.

Vatican Turmoil Over Bishop Richard Williamson Argentina Forced To Demand His Expulsion.

There has been an international outcry against the Vatican decision to re-instate the contraversial British born Bishop Richard Williamson.

The cause of the outcry has been the Bishop's statement during an interview on Swedish TV that he questioned the 'Holocaust' and did not believe that 6 million Jews were gassed, He also said that he did not believe that the gas chambers existed and thought that only 200,000 to 300,000 Jews had perished in the concentration camps. Not surprisingly the Israeli Government was quick to break off its usual diplomatic links with the Vatican. The Chief Rabbinate of Israel demanded that the Pope should take action against the Bishop. In Germany the Central Council of Jews officially broke off ties to the Catholic Church in protest and the State Prosecutors office in Regensburg stated that it would consider legal action against the Bishop because so-called 'Holocaust denial" is illegal in Germany. This inspite of the fact that Bishop Williamson lives in Argentina and the interview was on Swedish television.

As Broadsword goes to print, the Argentine Government is being put under increased 'international' pressure to deport the Bishop.

BRITISH SOCIETY IN 2009

SOMETHING BETTER CHANGE!

Contrary to What Our Political Opponents Say British Movement is Not Promoting Hatred For Any Particular Racial Group or Ethnic Minority; Our National Socialist Programme is About Ensuring the Survival and Preservation of the White British Population, British Culture, British Traditions and British Heritage and the British Identity.
14 WORDS:- We Must Secure the Existence of Our People and a Future For White Children

THE LABOUR GOVERNMENT'S POLICE STATE IN MODERN BRITAIN

Under the pro-Stalinist programme of greater control of the British people, the Government of New Labour has introduced hunderdeds of new laws and regulations.It has also vastly increased police powers of surveillance on the British population.

There are now more than 4 million CCTV cameras in Britain - one camera for every 15 people.

New regulations will force the communication companies to keep records of every e-mail, text message or mobile phone call; all records to be stored and available for police scrutiny.

Automatic Number Plate Recognition machines (ANPR's) - there are now over 2,500 on Britain's roads and motorways taking over 10,000, 000 numberplate photographs every day.

The Witch-Hunt Against the BNP

The Publication of the Membership List of the British National Party on the Internet in November 2008.

The disclosure on the internet of the names, addresses and occupations of several thousand BNP members and supporters in November 2008 was not only a disasterous lapse in internal security by the BNP, but was also the trigger for a witch-hunt against named individuals by assorted public bodies, uniformed services and local goverment organisations. These organisations were quick to scour the published lists to identify any of their employees for immediate persecution, harrassment and dismissal.

All in the name of 'protecting diversity and serving the cause of racial equality". <Whatever that might mean>

Despite what some left-wing organisations would like to think, the British National Party is a legal organisation, with sizeable electoral support in some parts of the country. But because of the chicanery of left-wing political activists in the Labour Party, Trade Unions and racial/ethnic minority pressure groups, membership of the BNP is a dismissal offence in some occupations, in particular the Police and the Prison Service, and teaching. This of course does not apply to active members of extreme left-wing organisations, Irish Republican supporting organisations, assorted homosexual pressure groups or fringe religious organisations.

GAZA

There has been so much international media coverage of the Israeli onslaught on the Palestinian enclave of Gaza and on Gaza city that there is little point in Broadsword turning over more of the same. Except there is a very valid lesson here in world-politics. The State of Israel has demonstrated yet again that it can take whatever military action it feels like taking and the rest of the world, especially the 'West' will wring its collective 'democratic' hands and do nothing. The USA keeps Israel well supplied with the latest military technology, munitions, aircraft and assorted hardware. Israel uses the excuse of a few dozen, erratically fired home-made rockets fired into its territory to launch wholescale destruction on a captive enemy. The Zionist lobby across the world ensures that inspite of international condemnation, no action is taken against Israel. Israel always finds an exaggerated excuse for the atrocities it commits in the name of Zionism

BROADSWORD'S CAMPAIGN AGAINST 'POLITICAL CORRECTNESS'

Fight Back Against Left-Wing Dogma And Liberal Policies Being Forced On British Society.

Human Rights Laws Allowed Two Paedophiles To Live Together And Abuse Boys

Two convicted paedophiles began a homosexual relationship while serving prison sentences for child sex offences. John Bates (age 45) and Stephen Carruthers (age 49) met in Strangeways Prison, Manchester. The probation services had warned that the pair were dangerous, predatory sex offenders and were at their most dangerous when they were living together, but under human rights laws the probation services and the police were prevented from stopping the two perverts setting up home together in Blackpool.

As soon as the two were established in Blackpool they began to lure young teenage boys to their flat, where they groomed the four 14 year old boys for perverted sex.

In January 2009 Carruthers and Bates were jailed at Preston Crown Court on charges of engaging in sexual activity with a child; child abduction and grooming children for sex. The court was told that both men have a series of paedophile convictions stretching back over 20 years.

Another example of how liberal human rights and equality legislation protects perverts and prevents justice and control of dangerous sexual predators.

50 % of Drug Dealers Avoid Prison

Only half of all convicted drug dealers are being sent to prison and one in ten is being let off with a Police caution.

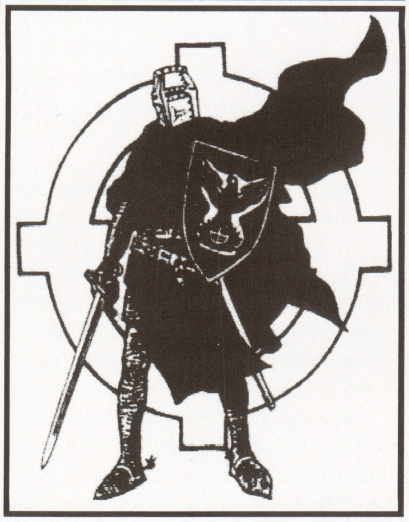
Ministry of justice figures show how weak the Labour Government is being on the punishment of arrested drug dealers, including dealers supplying Class A narcotics like heroin and crack cocaine.

Grandparents Refused Permission To Adopt Grandchildren As Social Workers Force Adoption By Two Gay Men.

In January 2009 a national newspaper broke the shocking story from Edinburgh where the grandparents of a girl age four and a boy age five cannot adopt them, but social services are prepared to have the children fostered into the care of a pair of homosexual men, who will later adopt them.

The older couple's daughter, the childrens' mother is a recovering heroin addict who wanted the children to be raised by the grandparents. But Edinburgh social workers refused to allow the 59 year old grandfather and 46 year old grandmother permission to do so on 'health grounds'. The old couple were threatened by social workers that unless they gave the fostering and adoption their blessing, they would never see the children again. The children have stated that they want to live with their grandparents.

But social services are determined to place them with a 'gay couple'. Once again 'political correctness' undermines traditional values.



BRITISH JOBS FOR BRITISH WORKERS

Using A British Nationalist Slogan Backfires On Gordon Brown

Prime Minister Gordon Brown was all too quick to quote the Nationalist slogan 'British Jobs For British Workers'.

But was quick to backtrack on this promise when British workers actually tried to put his words into practice. Both Prime Minister Brown and Business Secretary Peter Mandelson condemned those workers who went on strike to demand British jobs for local British workers. Proving once again that you cannot believe what the Labour Party and its Ministers say. They promise one thing in a soundbite speech but betray the workers with their policies and actions.

National Socialism is the guardian of Britain s traditional moral standards. British Movement calls for a national crusade against moral degeneracy.

Clear out the drug dealers and the sub-culture of street drugs.

Crack down on perverts and-sexual degenerates.

Launch a nation wide campaign to expose and purge our society of child molesters and paedophiles.

London On London

A National Socialist View of Life in Britain s Capital City
The Struggle For Survival of White British Londoners in the Swamp of Multi-Racial Chaos and Enforced Diversity That Has Taken Over Greater London

By Broadsword correspondent Ed London.

IT'S OFFICIAL
LONDONERS ARE BEING REPLACED BY IMMIGRANTS

In the 10 years between 1998 and 2008 nearly 2 million people left London to live in other parts of Britain. According to figures released by the Halifax (Britain's biggest mortgage lender) those leaving London were replaced by an influx of 1.8 million immigrants arriving in London during the same period.

Ever since the peak years of non-white immigration into London in the 1960's there has always been "White Flight" from areas of London where large numbers of immigrants have settled and White Londoners have moved away.

Official figures now show that one in three workers in London is an overseas worker. Contrary to what the Labour Government and left-wing organisations repeatedly say, these immigrant communities do not 'put back money' into the British economy, but send cash out of Britain to support families and family business interests back in their home countries. Whole communities in parts of Nigeria, Bangladesh and Ghana rely on money being sent back from family members in the UK, and the same is true for a number of Third World countries. London is now considered the most racially diverse and cosmopolitan city in the world. The racial makeup of London and the Greater London area is now so mixed that genuine White British native Londoners are a very rare group indeed. Whole districts are now unrecognisable as being British, almost 200 different languages and dialects are spoken in the Greater London area and London is supposed to be Britain's capital city!

Little wonder that so many White British people from the regions never visit London use they think it is so alien and non-British!

East London Gang Ran 24 Hour Dial-A-Drug Delivery Service

Many times in previous issues of Broadsword ,this column has marvelled at the enterprising nature of the 'Ethnic Minority' communities in London.

Our politicians never fail to point out how much London owes to the businesses operated by immigrant and ethnic minority communities and the innovative business development work these people bring to our capital city.

So it comes as no surprise to the "London On London" column to hear about the 14 strong drug cartel which provided a 24 hour "ring and bring" service in Tower Hamlets and the City. Using expensive rented cars such as Mercedes, SAABs and BMW's for deliveries, the gang could supply a range of high quality Class A drugs including crack cocaine.

In December 2008, at Snaresbrook Crown Court the enterprising businessmen from Tower Hamlets, Whitechapel and Bethnal Green were all found guilty of conspiracy to supply Class A drugs.

The names of those convicted sums up this column's opinion on those involved.

Nadimul Islam, Rezaul Islam, Shah Ahmed, Aminul Islam, Abdul Salam, Nazimul Islam, Shahen Ahmed, Ruhel Miah, Mohammed Rahman, Ruhel Uddin, Rema Foa, Ashratul Islam, Sharif Choudry, Jahangir Alom.

Not exactly traditional Cockney names eh?

40,000 the official estimated number of illegal immigrants currently living and working in London

New Scotland Yard Boss Orders Met Police Stations To Remove 'Gay Pride' Flags

The new Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police Sir Paul Stephenson has upset the homosexual elements within the Met by ordering certain police stations within his command area to fly only the Union Flag (Union Jack) from police buildings. According to a report in the "London Evening Standard", the new Commissioner was furious when he heard that Limehouse police station and a number of others had lowered the Union Flag and replaced it with the Gay Pride rainbow flag to celebrate so-called, "Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Transgender Month" in February.

< whatever that might mean ! >

From now on the Met will not be flying 'Gay' emblems from the flag poles of its buildings. It is obvious from what has happened that in some police stations, particularly over in Limehouse, there are a number of officers who actively support homosexual rights and are politically active in so called 'Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender' organisations.

PETER MANDELSON

The Dark Prince of New Labour or
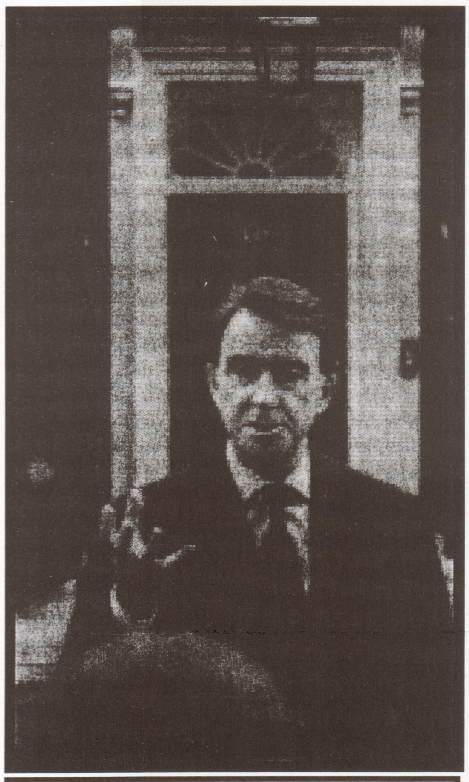
The Red Heart of the Labour Government?



2009. Lord Mandelson, the Government's Business and Enterprise Secretary outside No 10 Downing Street. Mandelson is regarded as the most influential figure in Prime Minister Gordon Brown's cabinet and the most influential voice in the Prime Minister's 'inner circle'.

Flashback. Cuba in the summer of 1978 Peter Mandelson takes part in the British delegation of International Socialist solidarity at the World Festival of Youth and Students in Havanna.

See Broadsword issue 29 for full article.

In 2008 Peter Mandelson returned to the Labour Government to take a Cabinet position as Business Secretary. He was rapidly knighted, becoming Lord Mandelson, to avoid the necessity of being elected as a Member of Parliament.

Previously Mandelson had spent 4 years in Brussels as the European Union Trade Commissioner. Prior to that he had been the Labour MP for Hartlepool; prior to that he had twice been forced to resign from the Labour Goverment of Prime Minister Tony Blair following a financial scandal and possible manipulation of passport arrangements.

Peter Mandelson has a long history in the Labour Party, from his days as a bearded student socialist activist; through his work in the trade unions and Labour Party election campaigns.

Mandelson became part of Tony Blair's New Labour project and is described by many political observers as the 'architect of New Labour'.

Mandelson provided the ideological base and the motivation behind the new approach to get a Labour Party back into government.

Mandelson provided the strategies designed to manipulate both media coverage of Labour Party related stories and the need to keep all key Labour figures "on message'.

Mandelson was the hand behind the control-freakery of New Labour.Mandelson was keen to drop the old working-class imagery and associations of the Labour party, what is now called 'Old Labour'.

Mandelson himself is highly articulate, well educated, with a taste for the finer things in life, an epicurean with a liking for international travel and the company of the very wealthy. Mandelson is also notoriously homosexual, with a Brazilian male partner, who appears to have had a remarkably easy entry into both Britain and Europe, without the usual passport and visa delays.

Mandelson is a hard-nosed political player who has a reputation as both a political survivor and a bearer of grudges.Certainly those within the Labour Party and the world of business who cross him live to regret upsetting Mandelson.

Although he was twice forced to resign from government office, Mandelson has always found a way to work his way back to the top, he remains a major influence in the Labour Party, and is known to have attended Bilderberg confrences. From a National Socialist viewpoint Broadsword considers Peter Mandelson to be one of the most dangerous figures in Gordon Brown's New Labour Goverment. He is an expert politician and a very skillful operator behind the scenes of government and in the organisation of political campaigns.Mandelson's power and ability to manipulate must never be underestimated.

Peter Mandelson was made a Lord in 2008 to allow him back into government without having to be elected as an MP. To do this he had to resign his position as EU Trade Commissioner, a post he held for 4 years. Under EU rules 'Lord' Mandelson is eligible for a compensation payment of £78,000 per year over the next 3 years because he gave up the Commissioner's post.

As part of his new position as the Government Business Secretary, 'Lord' Mandelson will be paid a ministerial salary of £104,380 per year.

THE DAGGER AIMED AT THE HEART OF EUROPE

A Tidal Wave of Displaced Economic Migrants and Illegal Immigrants

AFRICA IS COMING TO EUROPE
Illegal Immigrants Picked Up At Sea By A Maltese Patrol Boat

In 2008 the level of illegal African immigration into Italy increased by 50%.
How much will it increase in 2009? As Somalis, Sudenese and West Africans cross the sea in their thousands.

IN 2008 THE NUMBER OF ILLEGAL AFRICAN IMMIGRANTS LANDING IN ITALY REACHED OVER 33,000. THOUSANDS MORE ARRIVED IN MALTA AND SPAIN

The Italian Government is struggling to cope with the thousands of illegal African immigrants crossing the Mediterranean from camps in Libya. There are thousands more landing in Malta, Sicily and Sardinia, so much so that there is now a permanent African ghetto of around 4,000 people on the tiny island state of Malta.

In previous issues of Broadsword we have drawn our readers' attention to this doomsday threat for Europe and the situation gets worse year by year. The surplus populations of Africa together with refugees from wars in Somalia, Ethiopia and the Congo all heading for Europe. These people believe that life in Europe will provide all their needs; work, homes, money, free health care and education. A vast majority use mainland Europe as a stepping stone to landing in Britain. Add to this those landing in Spain, Greece, Southern France and the Canary Islands. Add to this the untold numbers of Afghans, Pakistanis, Bengalis, Indians, Kurds, Iraquis and Chinese who are smuggled through Turkey, Russia and Eastern Europe. The scale of the threat to the genetic makeup of Western Europe and the British Isles cannot be understated, even if our economies and welfare systems can support this unending human tidal wave.

We must close our frontiers!

The Labour Government of Gordon Brown

Dictatorship by Stealth

In the past decade under the New Labour Government Britain has witnessed the introduction of literally hundreds of new laws and regulations. A vast array of new offences have been added to the criminal justice system.Every new item of regulation and social control has been carefully calculated to shift Britain politically to the Left.Each new law, each new regulation is a step guided by Leftist political dogma and the desire to impose the State's complete control of the British people.

Under New Labour Britain has moved ever closer to a Soviet-style authoritarian state by a slow, but measured introduction of legislation which is deliberately politically Left-of-centre without being openly Stalinist or Marxist but paving the way for another push further to the Left in the following piece of legislation.

The shift to the Far-Left has been carefully wrapped in laws and regulations that appeal to the soft-Left and the liberals, while gently introducing a legislative platform from which a hard Marxist/Socialist agenda can be launched in the future. The raft of "Equality" and "Human Rights" laws under New Labour has created a Leftist bedrock which has been used to undermine and even outlaw traditional British attitudes towards, immigration, race, sexuality, criminality, the family and even the teaching of traditional subjects in schools.

The influence of the political Left in the spheres of the media, local government, the Civil service, health care, social welfare, schools, universities and education authorities, child care and the medical professions has grown to new heights under New Labour. Labour Government ministers and MP's, first under Tony Blair and now under Prime Minister Gordon Brown have encouraged a leftward motion in all levels of public policy making, while carefully courting big business to prevent panic amongst the champions of capitalism.

Labour MP's and local authorty councillors have publicly embraced policies and campaigns which were once the preserve of the political extreme-Left.

Those who hold real political power under New Labour have boasted that they will defend 'diversity and multi-culturalism', will defend the rights and lifestyles of sexual minorities under the banner of 'Tolerance'. At the same time they will ensure that right-wing ideas on race, homosexuality the family and nationality are discouraged and in the case of ideas deemed to be 'racist' or 'sexist' or 'homophobic', they will be first treated as socially and politically unacceptable before being made illegal.

Many left-wing causes have been made acceptable to a point where they now receive officially sanctioned funding and support. The so-called 'Nanny-State' is part and parcel of the State taking control of peoples' lives to a point where only national or locally sanctioned bureaucrats can determine what is or is not acceptable. The mass of Equality legislation, Health and Safety regulations, rules and regulations governing everything from road tax to the height of garden hedges is all part of tightening the grip on British society and controlling the British public.

Under New Labour the police have become increasingly politicised, the Metropolitan Police are the most politicised police force in the UK, (the exception previously being the now defunct Royal Ulster Constabulary). The political role of the Metropolitan Police is now very clear, it has direct authority over all other British police forces in matters concerning state security, terrorism and the deployment of specialist units such as what was formally Special Branch and the new police intelligence services.

The former Commissioner of the Met. Sir Ian Blair was a political appointee favoured by the New Labour administration and tasked with transforming the Met into a more 'diverse' and 'politically correct' police force or should that be 'service'?

The arrest of a Conservative MP and the search of his offices in the House of Commons by so-called 'anti-terrorist officers' gave a startling insight into how close the Met now works for the Labour Government and how close the Metropolitan Police are in becoming the modern British equivalent of the old East German 'Stasi'.

A major step towards a Socialist form of government has been taken in the raft of measures introduced to help control the current crisis in the British domestic economy. Direct state intervention in the banking system and partial state ownership of the banks is something that the old Left could only dream of as a stepping stone towards total state control of all the banking system.

Prime Minister Gordon Brown is deemed to be even more of a political 'control-freak' than his pre-decessor. It is rumoured that Gordon Brown is obsessed by the minute details of government and legislation, a true Stalinist attitude towards control of the State, the nation and the population.

Our Ancestors Vikings

Part 2

In the previous issue of Broadsword, the 'Our Ancestors' article detailed how the 'Northmen' first came to the British Isles; how after the conquests of the 'Great Army' the Danelaw was created across northern and eastern England; how the Norse settled the Northern Isles and the north - west of Scotland. By the end of the 9th Century the cultural and political influence on Britain had become permanent and the Viking era was an established fact of British history, despite the tremendous losses suffered at the Battle of Brunanburgh and the re-capture of York by the Anglo-Saxons, Viking rule in England was far from over. Politics were the order of the day even so many centuries ago and when Athelstan died the Dublin-Norse seized the opportunity and returned to northern England in force.

The Norse chieftain Olaf Guthfrithsson led an army to retake York (Jorvik) and set about reconquering the Danelaw, in particular the old Viking region of the 'Five Boroughs' - Lincoln, Nottingham, Derby, Leicester and Stamford.

A Viking dynasty had returned to rule the North of England and the Midland, when Olaf Guthfrithsson died he was succeeded by his cousin Olaf Sihtricsson, another Dublin -Norse warrior king.

The Vikings left a permanent mark in those parts of England where they ruled, even though parts of the population were still Celtic or Anglo-Saxon. Place names and district names carried the Viking legacy; the Five Boroughs, the traditional three Ridings of Yorkshire were based on the Norse word 'thriding' meaning a third part.

The Norse language influenced the dialects of northern and eastern England, many Norse words being taken into the developing English language. The similarities between the customs and folk-beliefs of the Anglo-Saxons before they were Christianised and those of the Vikings meant that acceptance of Norse rule and culture by their Anglo-Saxon subjects was not strongly resisted.

The Anglo-Saxon king Edmund swore to reconquer the terrorities which had been lost to the new Viking dynasty in York. Between 939 and 954, warfare raged across the Eastern Midlands and the Vale of York. In 942 Edmund had recaptured the Five Boroughs and in 944 had retaken York and expelled the Dublin-Vikings. Again this was not the end of Viking rule in England and was another temporary lull. The political wheeling and dealing continued, there were those Northumbrian nobles who resented the southern Anglo-Saxons and it was their plotting that led to the throne of York passing into the hands of a Viking legend.

A 10th Century solid silver 'Thor's Hammer' amulet from Skane, Sweden.
Viking craftsmanship was sophisticated and highly detailed.
In Northumbria during the reign of the Norse kings, Christianity existed alongside belief in the Norse deities.
The organised church struggled to compete with the worship of sacred stones and trees.

A crafty Northumbrian schemer, Archbishop Wulfstan of York, was a powerful figure who led the Northumbrian 'witan', the council of the chiefs of Northumbria. He conspired to handover the throne at York to a powerful Viking chieftain, a son of King Harald Finehair, the heathen warrior king, Eric Bloodaxe a prince of the Norwegian nobility and a legendary warlord.

Under Eric's rule York flourished as a trading centre; it had a mixed population, Danes, Anglo-Saxons, Friesians, Norse-Irish and Celts.

The Kingdom of Northumbria was an uneasy territory covering most of northern England and parts of what is now southern Scotland. To their south were the Anglo-Saxons, the 'English'; to their north were the Cumbrians, the Strathclyde Welsh, the Gaels and the Pictish. Most of the ordinary people would speak the dialect of their district but would be able to communicate with traders and merchants in a mixture of Anglo-Saxon, British (Welsh) and Danish/Norse.

In 948 Eric Bloodaxe was expelled from York but his defeat was only temporary.

Our Ancestors - The Vikings Part 2

Between 948 and 952 the Anglo-Saxon king Eadred ruled over York and Northumbria, placing the Dublin Viking Anlaf Sihtricson on the throne in York as a client king in 949, Anlaf acknowledging Eadred as his overlord. This arrangement did not last, in 952 the Northumbrians kicked out Anlaf and restored Eric Bloodaxe, to the throne at York.

Eric wasted no time in re-establishing Norse control over York and Northern England, many Viking warriors were drawn to his hall in the 'King's garth' in York, including the great skald and ballad poet, Egil Skallagrimson. Warriors were drawn to serve King Eric because he was everything that the sagas claimed he was; a fierce warrior, a battle-winner, generous with gold and silver to those who served him well, but ferocious with those who crossed him.

From Egil's Saga comes this description of the court of Eric Bloodaxe.

"Eric went to table as usual and there were very many men who sat with him".

"Mighty king, son of the Ynglings....Under a hemet of terror the all powerful lord of the people sat over the land and gave lavish gifts. The king ruled in York with harsh thought for his sea-washed shores.

It was not safe, nor without terror, to look at the light of Eric's eye, when serpent keen, the eye of the all-powerful shone with terrifying light."

King Eric Bloodaxe ruled as a 'high lord' in the Viking tradition, his nick-name "Bloodaxe" referred to his skill in battle and his ruthless nature, he was also a heathen, a follower of Odin in the Norse warrior custom. Nicknames were a common feature of Viking culture and customs, something which has passed down into modern British and Western European culture. The year 952 ended with a great and bloody battle in the North of England, the Vikings of Northumbria defeated the combined forces of North Saxons, Scots and Cumbrians to consolidate Norse power in Northumbria.

Eric Bloodaxe was to rule another three years until the year 954, when he raised an army an marched northwards out of York up into the hills between the lands of the Northumbrians and the 'Westmoringas'. King Eric's army was an impressive force, his reputation as a great warlord had drawn many to his banner; the saga Fagrskinna tells of how "Eric had so great an army that five kings followed him because he was a valiant man and a battle-winner."

The kings who marched under Eric Bloodaxe's banner reveal much about the tribal makeup of the Viking kingdom's in the British Isles at this time; Arnkel and Erlend the sons of the Norse Earl of Orkney, King Ivar, King Harek, King Guttorm, King Sigurd and Prince Ragnald, Eric's brother, drawn from the royal households of Ireland, Scandanavia, and the Norse settlements in Scotland and England. The final battle took place on the high hills around Stainmore, Eric's was betrayed by Earl Oswulf, an Anglo-Saxon nobleman, the Earl of Bamburgh and killed by Earl Maccus a Norse Irish chieftain. The battle was long and bloody and destroyed the power of the Vikings in England. This was not the end of the Northmen in Britain, there would be future attempts to oust the Anglo-Saxon rulers and restore Viking rule as will be seen in a future part of this series.

I've been with sword and spear slippery with bright blood where kites wheeled. And how well we violent vikings clashed! Red flames ate up men's roofs, raging we killed and killed; and skewered bodies sprawled sleepy in town gate-ways.

The TV presenter and historian Michael Wood described the death of Eric Bloodaxe in the style of the great king's personal saga....

" Hotfoot from the battle on Stainmore, his death wounds displayed, Eric enters Valhalla, the hall of the gods, a hero above heroes. Odin greets him with:

'Heill thu nu, Eirekr !
ok gakk i haoll, horskr.'

'Hail to you Eric, be welcome here and come into the hall, gallant king! '

In the next part of this series 'Our Ancestors' will examine the impact of the Vikings on Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. How this influence shaped language, customs, culture and the future political developments of those particular regions of Britain.

The Ideological Roots of 21st Century National Socialism

The Ideological Roots of Modern National Socialism are to be Found in the Principles and Theories Laid Down in the Germanic-SS in the 1940 s.

The Germanic-SS Developed the Concept of a Pan-European National Socialist Movement Which Embraced All European Nations. Those ideals Spread Beyond 1945 and Evolved Into the Form of National Socialism Advocated by British Movement Today.

"Blood and Race" - motto of the Ahnenerbe

National Socialism A Natural Order

National Socialism is an ideology which is much more than politics, it is a way of life that embraces all aspects of its citizens lives. It celebrates the culture and traditions of the Folk, it recognises the unique bonds of blood and soil that a Folk has with its native land. National Socialism recognises the order of nature and how humankind is bound to Nature's law which sets a race of people within the boundaries of their native lands. A nations' roots are bound to their homeland like a tree rooted in soil, they take spiritual and pyschological nurishment from their native soil. If that unity is broken, a nation will become rootless, spiritless and are destined to fail as a people, just as a tree will die if it is left uprooted or rooted in the wrong kind of soil.

"If a man is cut off from his roots; if he is forced to observe a rhythm of life which is not his own, situated within a structure which does not suit him, and geared to purposes that do not seem to himto have any meaning; if he can no longer recognise his inheritance in the thick fog of bewilderment and obsessions that obscure everyday life; if he feels a stranger in his own home: then it is that he becomes truly alienated." 'Nouvelle Ecole'

" We are going to create the chance for the Germanic people and for Europe as a whole, directed by the Germanic people, to build an Order which will, for generations, be able to fight victoriously against all Asiatic aggression.
Woe to us if the Germanic people cannot win this battle. It will be the end of beauty, of culture and of creative thought on this earth. We struggle for that future only so that we can maintain the heritage of our most noble ancestors. I consider it necessary for the life of our people to teach all this to our grandsons, so that they may understand the difficulties of their ancestors and willingly enter into the SS way of life.
Heinrich Himmler.

Reading the above quotation, which is nearly 70 years old, there is an underlying message for those of us living in the first decade of the 21st Century. The threat to the White people of Europe, including Britain and Ireland, is no longer just the Asiatic threat that Himmler was fighting against in wartime, but an even greater threat of being racially engulfed in a continuous invasion by millions of non-white people from the Third World. Added to this the very real threat of being swamped in our own country by waves of black, brown and yellow races, is the growing presence of mixed race people, who only see a mixed race, multi-racial future as the way forward and the extinction of the traditional White Britain as the means to eradicate what they see as old fashioned, White racist attitudes.
The continued existence of a White British nation and culture and a White European culture rests with our children and grandchildren taking up our fight.

The Counter-Terrorism Act 2008 Section 76.

It is now an offence to take a photograph of a police officer

Let all Broadsword readers take warning. Under Section 76 of the Counter Terrorism Act 2008 and section 58A of the 2000 Act, the police can arrest a person who is believed to be, "elicits or attempts to elicit information about members of the armed forces, a member of the intelligence services, or a police officer."

The Metropolitan Police are already routinely seizing cameras and mobile phones during arrest situations and deleting any pictures or vidoe footage of the police officers making the arrest.

In order to film or photograph demonstrations or police activityjournalists and photographers must now obtain clearance from the police beforehand.

A Planted Story ?

The story was

"Obama online team hired to help fight BNP"

The article was not real news, but was repeating a story that had been circulating the media for weeks, describing how the anti-fascist organisation based around 'Searchlight' magazine had signed up the company (BSD) Blue State Digital, who had run Barack Obama's on line election campaign, to run their campaign against the British National Party.

The 'Guardian' article emphasised the BSD/ Searchlight campaign's need for donations, with a heavy hint for the usual liberal/lefty 'Guardian' readers to donate to the campaign.

The story was written by a Matthew Taylor, could it be the same Matthew Taylor who occasionally writes articles for 'Searchlight' magazine?

Basically this was a planted story, put into a left of centre national newspaper by a 'Searchlight' sympathiser designed to gain free publicity for the 'Searchlight' organisation by posing it as a news item.

A classic case of left-wing news manipulation.

REJECT THIS CORRUPT AND SLEAZY 'DEMOCRATIC' SYSTEM

The latest scandal involving the acceptance of large amounts of money by Labour members of the House of Lords from businesses to amend Parliamenary legislation underlines once again the totally corrupt governmental system that rules our country. Previously this gang of so-called 'socialists' has given us the 'cash for honours' saga centring around Tony Blair and Lord "Cashpoint" Levy. In addition there have been several scandals involving donations to all the main political parties as well as the claiming of expenses by MP's and irregular payments of expenses to members of their own families. Such examples of these politico's boarding the gravy train and putting their snouts in the trough are not limited to Parliament. The European Parliament and local councils are also beset by similar scandals and irregular financial activities.

Who are the fools who pays for this ?

Well - the ordinary citizens and tax-payers. We all pay taxes in one form or another, it does not matter what your age, income or social status. Besides income tax, council tax, national insurance, VAT there are other duties, levies and 'stealth taxes' - stamp duty, insurance tax, custom & excise duty, MOT etc. A sizeable proportion of all this revenue goes towards paying the salaries and expenses and pensions of these politicians, who for years have been betraying the interests of our Race and Nation. In addition another large portion of this tax revenue goes towards funding the European Union and the Stalinist bureaucrats in Brussels. This is why we must totally reject 'democracy' and electioneering. We must opt out of 'ballot-box' politics.The current electoral system, especially postal voting is plagued by fraud. The 'Old Gang' politicians can influence the outcome of elections by amending the voting system and changing the boundaries of electoral districts. Plus the 'Old Gang' have the full support of the media, the trade unions, the religious establishment and the well-funded scribblers at 'Searchlight' and their assorted allies amongst left-wing organisations and their thugs. So participating in elections is a waste of time, money and other precious resources. We must reject and give no support to those parties and groups that continue to participate in elections, nor those which accept non-aryan members or support the 'bandit state' of Israel and Zionism.

British Movement must focus all its efforts on building an infrastructure which is National socialist and outseide the corrupt system. This will be a long struggle but by dedication, will power and self-discipline we will triumph.

WE WILL HAVE OUR COUNTRY BACK !

Hawkwood. Essex. N.S.

AND ANOTHER THING.....

One Left-Wing magazine said there were nearly five and a half million jobs in the public sector of the British economy. No wonder taxes are so high!

Meanwhile, real wealth-earning jobs are being 'outsourced' to India, China, Egypt and Vietnam to maximise profits by using cheap labour there, but creating unemploymentand poverty here.

RADICAL OPINIONS

THE SCIENCE OF BEING

Have you ever asked yourself the question "Why am I here?" or "What is the meaning of this life we live and what is our place in the grand scheme of things?" Have you ever watched the scientific or philosophical programmes on the TV that are about the universe and the earth's place in it.....and been none the wiser at the end? Have you ever thought that perhaps the questions you want answers to are far beyond your capability of understanding, either scientifically or philosophically, and so you've therefore decided to shelve the whole idea of even 'trying' to understand it all. But has that decision left you with the feeling that your life still has a huge gap in it filled only by that same old yearning to understand? Some people seem to plough their way through life without an apparentcare about the meaning of it all, what we are and why we are here. They eat, drink and be merry on a day-to-day basis without giving a single thought to the deeper, unanswered questions that exist. Perhaps some of them think that any understanding is way above them, so they'll leave all 'that kind of stuff' to the scientists and philosophers.

But consider our Norse and Celtic ancestors. They had their theories about life, the universe and everything. Their mythologies are poo-pooed as nothing more than that...'mythologies'...by many, but strange as it may seem, our ancestors may have had more of a clue about the truth of our existence than we would at first imagine.

The fundamental belief of our ancestors was that our future is already there for us, woven into existence before we were even born. The Celts believed that we were connected to nature in every way and that we could communicate with the entities that dwelled within everything around us. The mythologies of our ancestors will probably be well known to most of you reading this article, but what may not be quite so well known to you is that current science is only just beginning to prove that the 'stuff' we are made of is connected to the energy of everything else around us, and new investigations into 'time' are proving by a thing called quantum physics, that not only are all our existences tied together as people, but also that our past, present and future is all connected too. What up-to-date science is basically saying is what our ancestors were saying thousands of years ago! So how then could such ancient races of people have a respectable knowledge of quantum physics?

This column is going to investigate the questions and answers to this amazing fact and take you on a journey that will open your mind to the truth of our history and allow you to explore some possibilities that perhaps even our most well paid scientists are not yet aware of, courtesy of our ancestors!

British Movement Women's Division

Healthy Body, Healthy Mind And The Future Of Our Nation

In all these days of woe concerning our financial situation both as individuals and as a nation, where materialism has had its day and cost many of us dearly (and which was warned of in our BM Womens ' Division Magazine), there are many things that we can still do for ourselves which will divide us from the mass mind-boggled populace and which will give us an anchor in the turbulent sea of anxiety all around us at this time.

We, as a people, determined to survive, need to look at ourselves very deeply during this period of uncertainty. Yes, many of us are worried that we may not be able tc hold on to jobs and therefore mortgages, loans andso on, but do we really realise what all this worry is doing to our health and the impact that is having on our children? More anxiety; more fags, more beer to make it go away? More fags, more beer, less money, more anxiety? Sound familiar? "I can't afford to take the kids out. Its too expensive to do anything with them. You need money to do things like that". That sound familiar too?

Well there ARE things you can do but you need much self-will and determination to do them. Firstly, considering what is known about the results of cigarettes and beer on your body over a long period of time, do you think that this is a National Socialist lifestyle of preservation, pride and loyalty? (Remember, Adolf Hitler was both a non-smoker and tee-total)

How can you preserve your body by reducing the amount of air you can get into your lungs by clogging them up with nicotine, and damaging your heart muscles? How can you preserve your body by damaging brain cells by excessive use of alchohol and so on? And what effect will it have on our children to see their parents unfit and unwell. What kind of role model are we being for them and what kind of leadership are we giving them?

The newspapers and television reports are full of horror stories of our overweight, smoking, drinking children with no prospects and a life filled with doom and gloom. What are we doing to them by tainting them with our own ill health?

The National Socialist way is a way of pride, of health, fitness and stamina to persevere, overcome and survive everything that our enemies throw at us, and we must teach our children these values by example. Our minds have to be pure and our bodies have to be as strong and as healthy as we can possibly keep them, especially now we face such difficult times everywhere and every day. It's very easy to say "I need my cigarettes to keep me sane" or "I'm off down the pub for a pint. I need a drink after the day I"ve had". It's also easy to say, "Trust a woman to come out with all that health stuff" and use it as an excuse not to pay any attention because "women don't understand what it's like".

Well I'm telling you, yes we do understand, but we as women have a duty to protect and nurture the health and lifestyle of our menfolk and our children, and it's therefore the responsibility of each and every one of us to make a concerted effort to live up to the National Socialist principle of healthy body and healthy mind.We are not saying no drinking and no smoking, but we are saying look again at your lifestyle - do you over load your body with nicotine, alcohol and junk food?

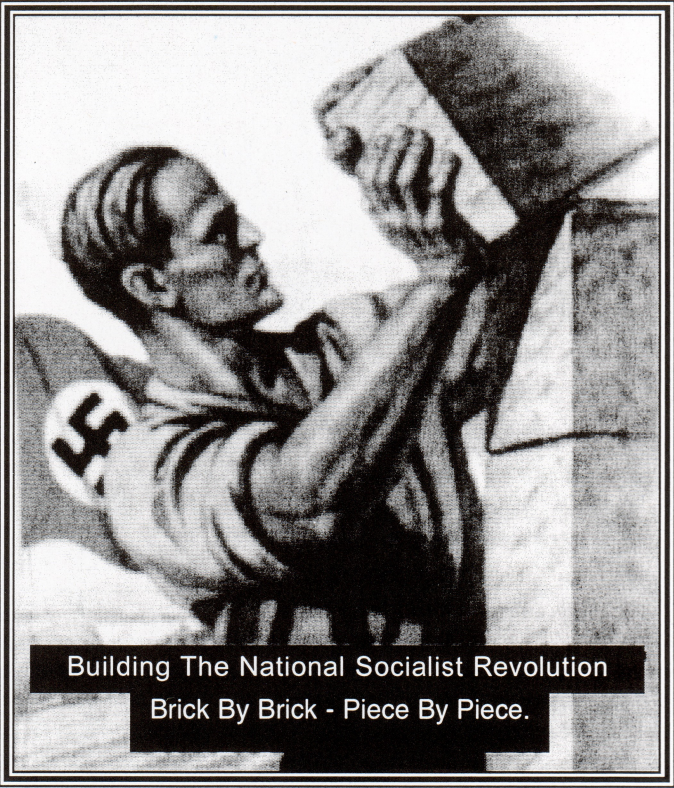
We, as a body of people, should be able to depend upon eachother during the bad times and I would therefore demand of each and every one of you that you look to your comrades to offer themhelp and support should they need it and to wake up to the prospect that we can all share a healthy and bright future if we pull together.

The Rose.

BUILDING AN N.S. FUTURE

The creation of a National Socialist state in Great Britain is the ultimate goal of British Movement, and in order to achieve the creation of a National Socialist New Order in the UK, we must first create the political conditions by which this situation can be realised.

This will be a long and difficult struggle, but it can be done and for the future of our people it must be done. We must right the wrongs inflicted upon our people in the name of multi-racialism and multi-culturalism, we must regain the birth-right of our people taken from them by stealth and the lies of democractic politicians and Left-wing ideologists. So-called progressive thinkers and opinion makers who have corrupted our nation s psyche.



Building The National Socialist Revolution
Brick By Brick - Piece By Piece.

We Will Have Our Country Back!

We Must Not Sacrifice Our Racial Principles In The Pursuit Of Gaining Unsuitable Allies.

Bosnian Muslim volunteers in the Waffen-SS in 1943.

These men were fighting against Communism in an ideological war almost 70 years ago. Times have changed and the wartime service of such men in Waffen-SS and Wehrmacht units should not be used as the justification for present day White Nationalists collaborating with today's jihadists and Islamic militants. Ideologically we have nothing in common with them except our opposition to Zionism and Israel.

National Socialism and Islam Will Not Work. Embracing the Islamists in Britain as Our Allies is Not the Way Forward

In a recent item of literature published by a British based, Pan-European organisation, the writers called for British Nationalists to embrace Muslims as our allies in the fight against Zionism and Jewish influence. In particular they called for "Europe and Arabia Unite Against Zionism" and asked the reader to support the UK based Muslim organisations; Hizb ut-Tahrir Britain, Islamic Party of Britain, and the Muslim Brotherhood.

British Movement totally rejects the idea of working hand in glove with the forces of Islam here in the UK, and rejects it for very good reasons. The Islamists organisations operating in Britain and Europe today are working towards the creation of a 'caliphate' an that is an Islamic state in Britain and across the world. The Muslims are multi-racial, they accept any race as a convert, as a brother in Islam, be they a Sudanese black African, an Arab, Chinese, Turkish, Albanian or a White European. They reject Western European culture, it is a fact that the first thing that White converts to Islam do is to change their names from an Aryan name to an 'acceptable' Arabic name, usually incorporating a version of the name Mohammed. In defying Zionism the Muslims are not seeking to defend European culture and identity, they seek to replace it with an Arabic based Islamic culture, where the worship of Allah and following the teachings of the Koran takes precedence over everything else.

Many times in the pages of Broadsword we have attacked the beliefs and practices of organisations like Hizb ut-Tahrir Britain. British Nationalists should be rejecting the presence of this organisation in our country not offering them an excuse to remain and operate here. We want these people and their culture out of our country.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

The views and opinions expressed on this page represent the views of our readers and their publication does not indicate support or endorsement of those opinions or adoption as official British Movement policy.

Dear Comrades at the Broadsword,

The arrival of the latest issue (No.35) of Broadsword was once again most welcome.

In my view the variety and quality of the articles is improving with each issue.

I fully endorse the content of 'The Werwolf Column' - "White Resistance Against Multi-Racialism Is Growing" and "Building An N.S. Future". There is no doubt that we are living through a period of great opportunity. Thus we must seize the moment to increase the support for and influence of British Movement.

In conclusion I would wish to highlight "The BMWD Vixens" column. Historically our Movement has been male-dominated and the role and importance of women in our struggle has been overshadowed. We must never forget the key role of women as the cornerstone of the family and the mothers of future generations and thus vital to the survival of our Race and Nation.

Therefore I would like to see more contributions from women in future issues of Broadsword. A female perspective on current political issues would be most welcome.

Dear Broadsword,

The article in Issue 35, "A Bus Ride In Liverpool" pretty much sums up the situation in this country. The race-mixer who complained about the BM supporter's badge must have recognised the design and was obviously determined to cause as much trouble for him as was possible. These people look for offence at every opportunity just to push forward their cause.

We must fight back! We Will Have Our Country Back!

Dear Broadsword

Many thanks for the recent issue, the content is most encouraging and I congratulate the BM leadership on their overall strategy and foresight. I believe that it is correct to build up the Movement on a gradual basis and with firm foundations for future growth. It is too early to talk about a 'mass movement'. We must remember that a large number of our fellow British citizens are apathetic about politics and are generally disillusioned. It will take a lot to raise many of them to revolt against the system. However there is a potential group who are totally alienated and looking for a real alternative. It is clear that the world is heading for a serious long term recession. This is a great opportunity for us.

Keep up the good work ! - RM. Essex.

Dear Broadsword,

KM, Wales (Letters, Issue 35) is spot on in writing "like it or not we are at war" and "forget the ballot box" though that is preaching to the converted as we do not take the dead-end road of other nationalist parties that foolishly give away members' money to the enemy in the shape of deposits for candidates standing in local and national elections. Even that con-trick is not worth the effort they give to them. Paltry insignificant percentages gained time and again and still the penny doesn't drop. A few seats at ward level in a few local authorities which shortly disappear. That is like a few pellets on an elephant's hide for all the gains made in advancing the cause of racial nationalism.

RM Essex (Letters Issue 35) makes the same point. It is a fantasy believing the ballot box is the route to power and "90% of those who bother to vote remain wedded to the old gang of establishment parties". But I somehow doubt whether other groups and organisations will heed an appeal to "stop wasting their time and resources on elections and to unite with the BM." They have shown no signs of uniting even in their election campaigns to present a common nationalist front. It is hardly likely after nearly half a century of ploughing their separate futile furrows they will suddenly come to their senses. Participating in the recurrent election farce is to give credence to the masters of deceit drum-banging and bleating about democracy and gulling the boobs into thinking their votes make a difference between the controlled groups of political parties being used to corrall the people in the Jewish World Order plantation. The argument made by some of those unthinking nationalists is that campaigning in elections makes people aware of their policies. But such awareness, if it ever strikes home, quickly evaporates beneath the 24/7, 52/365 smears, lies, propaganda of the media (the sounds and images of the enemy) - that national lie machine spraying slime in the faces of the gullible who sit and stare at the TV and swallow the crap in their tabloid newspapers every day.

In the Internet age there is the opportunity to communicate with many, not all, of the people and always having regard to the obvious snooping by the secret police and other agencies of this soviet style state with its inverted race laws and "public order laws" and thought control. Nevertheless we should be able to oppose and contradict the enemy's propaganda and lies on a regular basis, issue by issue, from immigration concerns, overcrowded Britain, unemployment, the banking swindles and stock market casino with rich-pickings by the plutocrats, depressed incomes, thanks to the democratic politicos conning the tax-payers that they know all about the economy. If they lie, cheat and embezzle while showing an aptitude for feathering their nest they will be elected and rule the roost, plugging their agenda of equality for all races and brown-nosing Muslims, Jews, Sikhs and any other belief than Christianity (however we may choose to regard that religion). But having regard to the fact that we are at war with an implacable foe holding all the levers of power we should always be aware of the traps and legal minefield it has set. Avoid communicating by land and mobile phone, by e-mail and the 'Royal Mail' - all subject to interception, including post boxes - and do not make it easy for the watchers and trailers and the plethora of CCTV camera operators. There is more than one way to skin a cat and while confrontation is hopeless as well as stupid, there are other ways of engaging an enemy - see Colin Jordan's articles on The Vanguard. COLIN JORDAN
LAUNCHES A SERIES OF LEGAL BATTLES.

Colin Jordan, veteran British National Socialist and founder of British Movement has launched a series of new legal challenges in the last 6 months. In November 2008 the 85 year old NS activist challenged the Chief Constable of North Yorkshire at Harrogate Magistrates Court to return 14,000 items which were unlawfully seized during Police raids on Mr Jordan's property in August 1998 and March 1999. The raids were declared illegal at Judicial Review in the High Court and to date the North Yorkshire Police have failed to properly itemise the seized materials and return them in a properly organised fashion. In fact the Police have stated that they will destroy all the material unless Mr Jordan collects it without adequate listing and checking.

Thus far the material has not been itemised nor has it been returned.

In a separate development Colin Jordan is seeking to launch a defamation case against the self-styled 'anti-fascist' magazine "Searchlight" for presenting a series of untrue allegations about Mr Jordan and his political activities in the 1960's. Mr Jordan has now set out the ground work for a defamation case against "Searchlight". A fighting fund is being raised and Colin Jordan appealing for fellow National Socialists and racial Nationalists to raise funds in support of his legal action.

HOLOCAUST LOVE STORY EXPOSED AS A FRAUD

Another Holocaust survivor's story has been exposed as a fraud. The American publisher company Berkley Books has been forced to withdraw the book "Angel at the Fence" by Herman Rosenblat, when the so-called love story was declared a hoax.

Herman Rosenblat, a 79 year old retired TV repair man living in Miam, USA wrote the book claimed to have been a child prisoner in Buchenwald concentration camp and there met his wife Roma Radzicky who was outside the camp and threw him food over the wire fences, they married in America in 1958.

The so-called love story was featured twice on the Oprah Winfrey TV show, where Winfrey described the Rosenblat's book as " the greatest love story ever told on air".

Unfortunately it has been proven to be a total fabrication and Rosenblat has been discredited. He joins the ever growing list of falseHolocaust memory writers such as Benjamin Wilkomirski who was also paraded around the American media circuits as a wonderful example of a concentration camp survivor who was later proved to be a liar.
